STRONGER MARKET.

Considerable Animation Displayed on Local Breaks.

Heavy Sales of the Weed, Which is in Good Order For Handling.

The local tobacco market this week was stronger, considerable more animation being displayed, and there were also more buyers on the breaks than for some weeks.

Sales were considerably in excess of those of last week and prices were considered good.

The weed is sweating nicely and is in much better order than it has been. Rejections were not so large as on some former occasions.

It develops that the crop of 1901 is the most useful one raised in this district for years and a still better demand may be looked for.

Receipts are not quite so heavy as they were a few weeks ago, owing to the fact that a large percent. of the crop has been delivered.

Common to good lugs ranged in price from $4.50 to $6.00. Common leaf brought from $5.75 to $6.75. Medium leaf went off at from $6.00 to $7.00, good leaf ranged from $7 to $9, and the price on selection, was from $10 to $12.

The loose market is still active with a good stock on hand.

BLACKBERRY WINTER.

Came This Year Without the Usual Berry Bloom.

Blackberry winter, although about a week later than usual, was ushered in Monday afternoon and the temperature dropped about 40 degrees in twenty-four hours. This is one of the few years in which this cool season prevailed without the usual blackberry bloom. While there are a few blooms scattered over the bushes in some places, blossoms are scarce for several years, and the prospects are that the crop of berries will be very short. Many of the bushes were broken off by the heavy sleet and the cold weather in December last also injured them. While the mercury went down in the forties Tuesday night vegetation was not damaged. In some places frost was reported, but it was too light to nip vegetables.

HIS CHILD

Shot Through the Heart During a Family Quarrel.

Cadiz, Ky., May 27.—Lee Williams colored, living four miles out of here, shot his two-year-old child through the heart yesterday, killing it instantly. Williams claims to have shot the child accidentally. He was brought here last night by Deputy Sheriff Mitchell and lodged in jail.

CLASS ENTERTAINED.

Miss Edmundson's Reception to S. K. C. Graduates.

Miss Mattie Edmundson, one of the graduating class of South Kentucky College, gave a reception last evening complimentary to the members of her class and it was greatly enjoyed by all who attended. Delightful refreshments were a pleasant feature of the affair.

HIT WITH HATCHET.

Young Man Charges he Was Victim of Assault.

Atlas Mayers, aged 19, living a few miles east of Crofton, charges that he was struck in the face with a hatchet by a man named Bond and badly hurt. A warrant has been sworn out for the arrest of Bond.

BETHEL COLLEGE.

Closes a Very Successful and Prosperous Session.

Eight Young Lady Graduates Receive Three Diplomas Wednesday Night.

Beginning Monday night with the rendition of "The Spanish Lady," the closing exercises of Bethel Female College were concluded Wednesday night at the college.

"The Spanish Lady" was composed by Miss Ione Newman. The leading character of Ximena was taken by Miss Elizabeth Drake, of the college faculty.

Other characters were sustained by Misses Louise Carr, Ida Schaefer, Mary Wright, Polly Graves, Jessie Garrett, Ethyl Frost and Georgia Rushing, and a large chorus of good spirits and Spanish maidens.

The young ladies all acquitted themselves most handsomely and the large audience gave them unstinted applause.

Tuesday night at the Baptist church Dr. John O. Rust delivered the baccalaureate address to the young ladies.

His theme was "The New Heavens," which he divided into four parts—materialism, aestheticism, occultism and socialism.

Heathens were defined as godless persons and the tenor of his address was to show that the reckless pursuit of wealth, the devotion to aesthetics, the encouragement given to fortune telling, hypnotism and such things and finally the tendency to a socialistic contempt for law and property rights, were all matters essentially antagonistic to godliness. The address was listened to with much attention by a large and cultured audience. It was delivered in the eloquent young divine's best style of oratory, and was rendered especially entertaining by occasional anecdotes and humorous illustrations.

At the College on Wednesday night the commencement exercises proper were held and the chapel would not hold the large crowds present, the parlors and halls being filled with the overflow crowd.

Eight young ladies were given diplomas as follows:

Piano—Dell Gaines, Georgia Rushing, Ida Schaefer.
Bachelor of Arts—Patty Bartley, Dell Gaines, Mable Hille and Daisy Williams.

Master of Arts—Miriam Eades, Frances Huddleston.

The following musical program was given before the diplomas were awarded by Pres. Edmund Harrison:

The Bee and the Clover. Miss Mary Tandy
Slavonic Dance. Misses Gaines and Lam

In Line of March. Miss Frances Summers
Theme and Variations in B (Flat) Major. Miss Georgia Rushing

Waltz in a Minor. Miss Annie Green
Invitation to the Dance. Misses Lam and Wright

Ballads in A (Flat) Major. Miss Ida May Schaefer
Hark, Hark, the Lark. Miss Miriam Eades

The Distinctions in the various classes were read by Prof. W. H. Harrison, who acted as Master of Ceremonies.

The entertainment closed with the very scholarly and appropriate address of the President to the graduating class.

At ten o'clock the audience was dismissed and the parlors turned over to the young people, who for an hour or more participated in a reception to the graduates and other young lady pupils. This delightful affair closed the exercises.

Gen. Leonard Wood, late governor of Cuba, who was an army surgeon four years ago, is now being boomed by the Republican organs as the successor to Gen. Miles.

SPEAKING MONDAY.

Congressional Candidates Will Open Local Campaign.

Stanley 'Authorizes' Announcement That he Will Speak—Taylor and Brasher Expected.

The somewhat listless congressional campaign will be opened actively in this county next Monday. Hon. A. O. Stanley, the Henderson candidate, authorizes the announcement that he will speak and he extends an invitation to his competitors to accept a division of time. It is more than likely that Judge Taylor and Mr. Brasher will be on hand. The latter is just recovering from a severe illness, and, if his health permits, he will certainly be present.

As it is circuit court day a large crowd is certain to be on hand to hear the speaking.

Brasher Will Speak.

Mr. John B. Brasher authorizes us by telephone to make an appointment for him to speak at the court house Monday afternoon at one o'clock. Mr. Brasher will resume his campaign with a speech at Sebree tomorrow.

OUT ON BOND.

One of Miller Brothers Furnished Bail for Appearance.

C. J. Miller, one of the men arrested here last Friday morning on a charge of counterfeiting, furnished bond yesterday and was released from jail. He gave bond for $1,000 to answer any indictment that might be found by the grand jury and a $500 bond for his appearance before the Federal court at Owensboro.

An Agent of the Secret Service was here and secured photographs of the Millers. J. P. Millers is still in jail.

ONLY EIGHT FAILED

Out of 31 Applicants For Certificates.

The county board of examiners has finished grading the paper of the 31 white applicants for teachers' certificates who were examined about two weeks ago. Out of the total number five secured first class certificates, 13 second class, 5 third class and eight failed. The vast majority of the 34 colored applicants are not yet been graded.

The Ax Handle plant of J. W. Harned & Bro., to which the KENTUCKIAN called the attention of the Commercial Club a month ago, has been induced to locate here. Work will begin soon.

EXCELLENT SEASON

A Big Per Cent. of Tobacco Crop Set.

About 75 per cent. of the tobacco has been set in this county. It is estimated and with another season the work of transplanting will be finished.

In some sections, where the rains were heavy, the farmers have finished putting out their crop. There are a few neighborhoods where no rain of consequence fell, but in such unfavorable spots the plants have been set and watered.

The acreage will be larger than last year.

RECEPTION LAST EVENING

Complimentary to Misses Huddleston and Frost.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. M. Meacham received last evening in honor of their guests, Misses Frances Huddleston, of Atlanta, Ga., and Ethyl Frost, of Dallas, Texas, recently pupils of Bethel Female College. The younger set of society was well represented, a number of the school girls of the college delaying their departure a day to attend. Refreshments were served.

DECORATION DAY.

Graves of Union Soldiers Will be Decorated.

Today being Decoration Day is a National holiday. The decoration of the graves of Union soldiers buried in Hopewell cemetery will take place at 3 o'clock. Visitors are requested to bring floral offerings and be there at that hour. Mr. John Feland will be master of ceremonies and Messrs. Stanley Long and Chas. O. Prowse will deliver addresses.

VICTIM OF CONSUMPTION.

Reed Renshaw, Jr., Died After Long Illness.

W. R. Renshaw, Jr., died last Monday morning at the home of his parents in this city of consumption. He was 17 years old and had been sick for several months. Rev. H. C. Bickett preached the funeral at the Christian church Monday afternoon and the interment took place in the Adams burying ground, five miles north of the church.

YOUNG FARMER

Succumbs to Attack of Typhoid Pneumonia.

James H. Clark, son-in-law of Mr. Sam Dillard, formerly of this county, died near Guthrie Tuesday, of typhoid pneumonia. He was 37 years old and was survived by a widow, who was formerly Miss Pearl Dillard, and three small children.

THE THERMOMETER.

Interesting Facts Showing Its Great Importance in Many Branches.

On the ordinary thermometer may be read, opposite the figures, two statements of a somewhat doubtful fact. The former are of little importance, whether it is "surface water" and a few degrees lower "temperature" depends largely on the locality. But the two fixed facts that water freezes at 32 degrees above zero, and that the temperature of the body is 98.6, says the Youth's Companion, exercise a controlling influence over many of the affairs of life. And while the whole face of the instrument might be dotted with other interesting signs, such as the boiling point of water and other liquids, and the freezing points of various liquids, these facts concerning blood and water are the prime essentials.

The freezing point of water is at the basis of many industrial processes; it must be constantly watched. When freezing weather is threatened the familiar suction pump is allowed to "run down," or the valves in unprotected water pipes are closed. In house building the mason goes below the point to which frost ever penetrates to get a good foundation. Most pipes also have to be laid below the frost line. Above it water is continually disintegrating the earth as with millions of tiny icebergs of dynamite. Water, because it expands in freezing, tends to break up everything into the elements of which it penetrates. Thus the frost line has been the cause of the failure of many a building.

When a man is a patient, the physician takes the thermometer. He knows that the body temperature is a good index of the state of the body. A fever is a sign of disease. A low temperature is a sign of weakness. A normal temperature is a sign of health.

The thermometer is used in many other ways. It is used in the kitchen to see if the food is cooked. It is used in the laboratory to see if the chemicals are at the right temperature. It is used in the factory to see if the machinery is running properly.

YOUNG AMER. CA.

Little Johnny Punished—He Makes a "Suggestion" to His Mother.

The little fellow, who is a very mischievous boy, has been punished for his misdeeds. He has been sent to his room for a week. He has been told that if he does not behave, he will be sent to the school. He has been told that if he does not study, he will be sent to the school. He has been told that if he does not listen to his mother, he will be sent to the school.

There are many ways in which a mother can punish her child. She can send him to his room. She can take away his privileges. She can tell him that if he does not behave, he will be sent to the school. She can tell him that if he does not study, he will be sent to the school. She can tell him that if he does not listen to her, he will be sent to the school.

For Young Farmers.

A Kentucky (Mo.) mercantile firm has offered three prizes, of $20, $10 and five dollars, to public school boys of legal age who raise the best half-acre of corn in Chertown county this year, preparing, planting and cultivating the crop themselves. Each contestant must prepare an essay not exceeding 1,000 words, explaining how he did his work, and giving reasons for his methods. Choice selections from each crop harvested for this contest will be preserved for exhibition as part of Missouri's exhibit at the St. Louis world's fair in 1903.

A NEW ANESTHETIC.

It is Obtained from a Plant and is Known as "Goutu-Est." A new local anesthetic obtained from an Indian plant called "goutu-Est" has recently been submitted to careful examination by some Hungarian dentists, says the London Lancet.

The anesthetic action of this substance was discovered a year ago by a dentist in Flumme, Dr. D. Dalma, who tried the effect of goutu-Est in cases of painful pulpitis, and recommended its use in the treatment of that condition. Dr. Dalma also explained the active principle of the plant, which proved to be an alkaloid, and in his laboratory he used it as a local anesthetic. The substance was found to be a powerful anesthetic, and it was found that it was not only a powerful anesthetic, but it was also a powerful analgesic.

For the relief of everybody concerned, a day's performance is rarely occupied by a single play. There are generally three or four or five plays run on the stage in succession. First there are usually played parts of two historical masterpieces. Then comes a domestic drama, picturing the life of the common people, their pleasures and tribulations. Finally, there is a scene in which dancing is the chief feature. So everybody gets something to his taste.

It is rare to see Japanese women on the stage with men. Usually men play the women's parts, and they frequently show remarkable skill in impersonating women.

Most Japanese actors acquire a habit of declaiming in a voice of a soldier, and one of the results is that the foreigner has great difficulty in determining whether it is a man or a woman who is performing the woman's part.

DRAWING THE COLOR LINE.

White and Brown Deer Have Little to Do With Each Other.

Do animals draw the color line? From the channel way in which the fallow deer in Central park manage have lately conducted themselves, says the New York Times, this would certainly seem to be the case.

About six weeks ago a new brown buck was added to the fallow collection, which consisted of two or three brown deer and some half dozen albinos. Through the kindness of the park had deteriorated until only a few were left to remind one of the fine buck who was master of the flock up to about five years ago. At that time the herd became too numerous, and the lordly buck, with about a dozen of his consorts, was removed to Van Cortlandt park.

From the advent of the new buck up to about three weeks ago all went well. Then, however, the director of the menagerie decided to weed out the poorest stock and replenish the herd from Van Cortlandt park, and brought down some half dozen fine brown does.

The brown buck seemed at once to take to his new subjects and to build up a kingdom among those of his own color, and the stock of the white, or albino, deer took a sudden drop. Many times a day now the flock can be seen divided, the white deer standing by themselves at one end of the paddock, and the brown, in company with the lordly buck at another. This is particularly noticeable when the approach of a keeper or anything to attract the attention of the herd occurs.

The brown deer at once flock around the buck, and the white ones crowd together at a distant part of the paddock.

JAPAN'S LEADING ACTOR.

Peculiarities of the Stage in the Flowery Kingdom.

Japan has a leading actor whose place at the head of his profession is as indisputable as Sir Henry Irving's in the theatrical world in England. Ichikawa Danjuro is now 63. His ancestors were on the stage more than 200 years ago, and theater folks in Japan accept him as worthily upholding the family traditions.

On Broadway theatrical precedence regulates itself. They order these things differently in Japan. There is a real theatrical aristocracy in the Flowery land.

Its members are called "nadaï." None may be of their number who has not had the good fortune to inherit a great name, like Ichikawa Danjuro, or to have been adopted into some famous theatrical family.

Middle class actors may have their merits, but they cannot hope to become nadaï on them, and to enjoy the attendant privileges. The principal of these are that they are entitled to advertise their names on the play boards over the theater doors, and there are only five actors who have it. Danjuro is easily head of the five, says the New York Sun.

For a century and a quarter this has been a stock play sure to draw full houses when all others fail. Danjuro has played the part 78 times, which, in Japan, where audiences demand variety in repertory and of it, is considered a remarkable record.

Acting in Japan isn't easy either on players or audience. In Tokio, where foreign methods are revolutionizing all things, including the stage they have got the length of the performances down to about eight hours. But in the interior playgoers insist on getting their money's worth—that is, 15 hours of theatricals at a gulp.

For the relief of everybody concerned, a day's performance is rarely occupied by a single play. There are generally three or four or five plays run on the stage in succession.

First there are usually played parts of two historical masterpieces. Then comes a domestic drama, picturing the life of the common people, their pleasures and tribulations. Finally, there is a scene in which dancing is the chief feature. So everybody gets something to his taste.

The First-born

A mother's feeling for her first-born child can never be exactly duplicated. Even when that child represents the sacrifice of health and a life-long invalidism, the inexhaustible tenderness of the mother's heart ceaselessly overflows to it in longing for its happiness. Such cases are not uncommon. How often have we heard it said of some invalid wife, "She was never well after her first child was born." Many a woman, too, with the maternal instinct strong within her, is told by physicians that in her condition motherhood means the risk of life. It is because of these things that many a young mother approaches the hour of her trial with dread. Will she be the joyful mother of children, or will she be doomed to life-long weakness and misery as the consequence of maternity? Those questions can be answered positively in the cases of forty-nine out of fifty women. Motherhood is perfectly prepared for and made practically painless by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The greatness of this statement comes out only when it is remembered that this practically painless maternity is the consequence of increased physical strength and great muscular elasticity, which result from the use of "Favorite Prescription." The use of opiates at the critical time might make the mother unconscious, but the physical strain and loss and depletion would exist just the same. The use of "Favorite Prescription" does not dull pain, but practically does away with it. It promotes the health of the whole physical organism, and enables the accomplishment of the maternal function in a natural and easy manner.

"I had poor health for nine years (ever since the birth of my child)," writes Mrs. Arminie Watkins, of Acme, Kanawha Co., W. Va. "Had female weakness, was very irregular and would suffer untold misery. When I wrote I had no idea that I would ever get well, but when your letter reached me I began to hope. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicines as directed and began to improve in strength. I was soon able to do the work for my family of six. I have recommended Dr. Pierce's medicines to a number of my friends, and they think there never were such medicines in the world. I think so myself. I took eight bottles, three of 'Favorite Prescription,' five of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and two vials of 'Pellets.'"

"After my baby came, in January, 1900," writes Mrs. Nancy Abner, of St. Paul, Ark., "I suffered severely from all sorts of aches and pains until the following May, when I read one of your pamphlets treating on female diseases. I wrote to you for advice, although I thought surely I would die, as my physician told me I was more liable to die than get well, your fatherly advice caused my health to be restored. I took five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, three of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and three vials of 'Pellets' together with your other remedies, and I am now able to do all my work."

"I have before written you of the great benefit both myself and family have received from your most excellent medicine," says Mrs. P. S. Peterson, of Welcome, Wis. "I have since tested its wonderful powers in the case of the coming of my fifth child. Took two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery' the first two months, and three of 'Favorite Prescription' the last two months. It saved me so much terrible suffering that I consider it a heavenly blessing."

In one form or another these testimonials have been repeated by hundreds of thousands of weak and sick women who have found in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, new health and new life. It has brought women up from sick-leaves who had no more hope of recovery than the prisoner under sentence of death has of reprieve. It has cured every form of womanly disease curable by medicine.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. Taken as a preparative for maternity it gives strength of body and confidence of mind, and makes the baby's advent practically painless. It is unexcelled as a tonic for nursing mothers and all weak, nervous and run-down persons. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces refreshing sleep.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free, and so avoid the offensive examinations, indelicate questionings and obnoxious local treatments which the home physician often deems necessary. All letters written to Dr. Pierce are treated as strictly private and securely confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

THE CARE OF BABY, is only one of many topics treated in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, which are of vital interest to all mothers. This great work, containing more than a thousand large pages and over seven hundred illustrations, is sent FREE on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing ONLY. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper covers.

Tastes Good

And eating is simply perfunctory—done because it must be.

This is the common complaint of the dyspeptic.

If eating sparingly would cure dyspepsia, few would suffer from it long. The only way to cure dyspepsia, which is difficult digestion, is to give vigor and tone to the stomach and the whole digestive system.

The action of the Second Railroad district committee, in calling a convention to nominate a candidate for railroad commissioner thirteen months ahead of the election, is unprecedented in Kentucky. The candidates are forced to enter the race by July 1, 1902. If any part of the State ticket is to be nominated this year, it would be better to have all of it named together, and then no particular aspirant could be benefited by a snap convention for any one office. Ring rule is unpopular.

"Are Ever Faithful Ials."

Cuba has been known the world over as "The Ever Faithful Isle," a name it received at the time the Spanish Bourbons were deposed by Napoleon in 1808. At that time each member of the provincial Cuban council took an oath to preserve the island for its legitimate sovereign. The island contributed voluntarily $500,000 to the Spanish treasury during the Napoleonic wars, and declared war against France for depriving the Spanish sovereign. For such fidelity Cuba people were rewarded by having taken away from them the rights of their provincial council, and imposing upon them a line of capitan general whose despotic rule continued down to the day this country wrested the colony from the hands of the Dons.

For Tennessee Central Railroad's Line to Clarksville.

Nashville, Tenn., May 28.—At a meeting of President Baxter and other directors of the Tennessee Central railroad held here today the letting of the contract to W. J. Oliver & Co., for the construction of the line to Clarksville, was ratified. What is known as the river route has been selected.

Wont Follow Advice After Paying For It.

In a recent article a prominent physician says, "It is next to impossible for the physician to get his patients to carry out any prescribed course of hygiene or diet to the smallest extent; he has but one resort left, merely the drug treatment." When medicines are used for chronic constipation, the most mild and gentle obtainable, such as Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, should be employed. Their use is not followed by constipation as they leave the bowels in a natural and healthy condition. For sale by C. K. Wylie.

HAMLET.

Brilliant Record of a Newspaper Man.

The success which has attended William E. Curtis, the famous correspondent of the Chicago Record-Herald, is rarely attained by newspaper writers. Beginning his career in Chicago in 1872, as reporter he rapidly rose to the position of managing editor. He resigned that position on receiving a government appointment as Secretary of the South American commission. Mr. Curtis traveled extensively in Central and South America while in this position, producing several popular volumes as the result of his literary labors. Afterward co-operating with Secretary of State Jas. J. Blaine, Mr. Curtis organized the work of the bureau of American republics, with the result that he was placed in charge of that organization, and at the World's Columbian Exposition he distinguished himself by his labors as the executive head of the Latin-American department. As correspondent of the Chicago Record-Herald Mr. Curtis' travels have carried him into every section of the United States as well as to all quarters of the globe. His China and Japan letters were published in book form, likewise his letters from England, Germany and France, as well as those written during his travels in Mexico and South America.

No newspaper correspondent possesses the facility shown by Mr. Curtis in writing on any of the diversified subjects embraced in his correspondence and making it luminous. Nor is any correspondent followed so closely year after year by the thousands of readers of the Chicago Record-Herald. On his recent trip to the Holy Land Mr. Curtis' letters have been read more closely than ever, and his descriptions of that interesting section of the globe as it appears to day have been quoted everywhere.

A daily letter from Mr. Curtis appears in the Chicago Record-Herald.

Bronchitis

"I have kept Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my house for a great many years. It is the best medicine in the world for colds and coughs."
J. C. Williams, Andover, N. Y.

All serious lung troubles begin with a tickling in the throat. You can stop this at first in a single night with Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Use it also for bronchitis, consumption, hard colds, and for coughs of all kinds.

There shows the strength for an ordinary cold; but just right for bronchitis, hoarseness, hard cold, etc. It is most economical for chronic cases. Put it up in a bottle.
J. C. Williams, Andover, Mass.

MAJOR CRUMBAUGH

Says He Has Been Given Assurance of Retention in Office.

Major S. R. Crumbaugh, United States Supervising Inspector of Steam Vessels, with headquarters in this city, is again at his desk after a few days' stay in Washington, where he went to look into the report that he is to lose his job and be succeeded by one of several applicants who are reported to be after it "as soon as his term expires." He is not appalled for any definite term, but is to hold on until his successor is named and qualified. Major Crumbaugh states that he was told to go back home and not worry, and was given other assurance that he would not be molested. "It is said that he has the entire Kentucky delegation in Congress back of him to retain him in his present position, which pays $3,000 per year," Cincinnati Enquirer.

GIRLS IN RHYME.

Miss Newman's Poetic Tribute to B. F. C. Young Ladies.

The following poem, written by Miss Irene Newman and published in "The Kalozeite Chimes," the society paper of Bethel Female College, will be read with interest by the friends of the various young ladies mentioned in the verses: Kalozeite Girls.

The greatest minds of male or men
And those who have gained notoriety,
Have always had their names enrolled
In some kind of College Society.

So the best of Bethel College girls—
Those noted for worth and piety—
Are found as you will clearly see,
In the Kalozeite Society.

Miss Drake, so very bright and sweet,
Whom we always like to meet
Will make her former hearts rejoice
By the tuneful sound of her soulful voice.

Miriam, sweet Miriam! What more can I say
Of the dear pupil teacher we so every day
There will be music wherever she goes
Of this we're assured by one who well knows.

Faustine Stale, what will she be?
Heart full of laughter, too eager for glee,
She's often reproved for talking in school
And thus disturbing the study hall rule.

Irene Soyars, ever true and wise,
Charming all with her wondrous eyes,
Will, we hope for many a year,
Answer to the call of "Mere."

A mingling of the snow drops fair,
And roses red beyond compare,
Will be found, with eyes so bright,
In modest, charming Lucy White.

Georgia Rushing, the parson's daughter,
Aye, the best of what she's daughter,
Duty her watchword, unselfish her life,
She'll make for some man, a most excellent wife.

Carrie Baker, true and kind,
All hearts with loving the dear blind,
May she happy be as the years go past,
Till the haven of rest is reached at last.

How we all love Miss Baker,
Demean at times as any quaker,
She's just the girl to win a man—
Follow her closely all who can.

Jeanie Graham, with roselike mouth,
And complexion radiant as the South,
Combines the witchery and art,
That always comes from a loving heart.

Sweet Dell Gaines, our studious girl,
Whom a banner will yet unfurl,
And always be a duty's call—
Though examiners her heart assail.

Nannie Stowe, so sweet and fair,
With deep blue eyes and golden hair,
Wins her way to every heart,
By trying always to do her part.

Bethel Priest, the society belle,
Her beaux are legion and well—
In the last, I wonder, the favored one,
Or is she still "just the same?"

Edith Allen has talent for art,
But in other things she's just as smart,
So for her I predict a brilliant career,
And I trust she will never have me near.

Rita Shaw, the poet of her class,
(May poets be heart's harass)
Is modest of mien and fair to behold,
And I trust she will never be sold.

Dear Francis knows her heart's true fall—
We'll never hear pleasant face most fall—
May her future years be bliss,
And give to her the needed rest.

Faithful, charming Mary Wright,
With merry smile and heart so bright,
In all her classes stands No. 1—
And yet she's always ready for fun.

Look over there at dark-eyed Della,
Shall I tell you her future no longer?
Married? Yes, not once but twice,
Because the men all know what's nice.

Myrtle, modest and ever shy,
Is fond of asking the question "why?"
Not a bad thing, as you'll agree,
She's charming us, "just the same."

Mable Hille with dignity shines,
Easily takes her place with the rest,
She will, I know, make a name with her pen,
If she can say "No" to those lovelies men.

Mary White of modest grace,
With her lustrous radiant face,
Sweet of nature, bright of mind,
Wins by always being kind.

Patty Tandy ever bright,
Is a gem in the college's light,
A favorite in all, as a rule,
The jolliest girl in all the school.

Idea Schaefer with winning grace,
Bright of mien and bright of face,
Ready with flow from a heart of good cheer,
We'll hold her in memory ever dear.

Jessie, once so gay and bright,
Seems to be in a dreamy plight,
She's grave and mournful and meek as a dove—
Don't mention it please, but I think she's in love.

Katie Hope of modest mien,
As sweet a girl as e'er was seen,
Has a loyal heart as pure as gold,
With a mind of wisdom all around.

Louise Carr, our latest addition,
With mind and heart in splendid condition,
Gives to all a pleasant surprise,
With complexion fair and brown eyes.

Sara Taylor, the best of girls,
Charm us all with nut-brown curls,
We find there a heart faithful and true,
Kind to friends both old and new.

Here a girl so modest beamed,
"Twilight in pain when we are parted;
To think of another so dear would be folly,
She's good, she's sweet—above all she's Polly.

Elizabeth Wilson, gentle and mild,
Gladness all hearts by her charming smile,
And there's one who thinks of her just as I do—
I know his name, but I shan't tell you.

Al girls, so full of grace and beauty,
Who never flash from call of duty,
You're made for love divine and human
And are dear to the heart of IOWA NEWSMAN.

HIS HOME PAPER.

Handsome Send-Off Given Mr. Stanley By the Gleaner.

The question under existing conditions and the further fact that Henderson and the district may require the services of a congressman learned in the law, a man of more than ordinary ability, a representative who can impress his thoughts upon the minds of those with whom he may have to do, we repeat, the question naturally suggests itself, what is our duty at the coming November election? We recognize the fact (and we had fully intended to adhere to it) that a Democratic newspaper in a primary where the candidates are all deserving and all of the same political faith should take no part but allow the candidates to work out their own salvation. The Gleaner has strictly adhered to this idea, but we observe that other Democratic papers in the district have their favorite and are by no means backward in so far as it lies in their power to keep them prominently in the front, smothering them with complimentary notices of one kind and another and treating opposing candidates as though they were political opponents. We have nothing to say derogatory to the candidacy of any gentleman named for the nomination at the August primary. So far as we know and are informed they are each and everyone of them worthy, they are gentlemen, they are Democrats.

It will be admitted, however, by all men unless it be one too biased in his opinions to be a competent witness, that Henderson presents in the person of Mr. Stanley, a man known to be an expert in the law, a lawyer the equal of any in this or any other district of the state, a man of far seeing judgment, a student thoroughly grounded in the political issues of the day and an orator on the stump the equal of any who can or will be nominated by the Republicans. To bear out this statement in all the fullness of its meaning we can do nothing better than repeat a conversation had in the Gleaner office after a political debate held in the old tabernacle a few years since when Mr. Stanley was called on to measure strength with Mr. Caldwell, a Republican convert from Louisville, Captain William T. Ellis, of Owensboro, walked rapidly into the Gleaner office, apparently elated and with approving smiles congratulated the editor and requested to be quoted as having said that no such speech had been made since the days of Henry Clay as that made by young Stanley. "I tell you sir, he is an orator worthy of the reputation and will make his impress upon the politics of the State. He is simply splendid, the equal of any and the superior of many with established reputation." Mr. Ellis showed that he meant all that he said, and certainly no one doubts Captain Ellis ability to "size up" an orator and man of brains. Henderson and the district, we say, need the services of such a representative in Congress. Mr. Stanley is full of energy, has an aptitude for making friends and is universally popular. We may need such timber to confront the Republican nominee and with Mr. Stanley as our standard bearer we know our cause is safe. These are points the Democracy of the district should consider well.—Henderson Gleaner.

WHAT ANOTHER PAPER SAYS OF HIM.
Although recognized for some time as a logical candidate, the many friends in this county of the Hon. A. O. Stanley will note with no limited degree of pleasure his formal announcement for Congress, which appears in this morning's issue of The Telegram. Mr. Stanley needs little introduction to the people of Union county; in fact, his frequent visits to this county, both on professional duty and in answer to the frequent demands made upon him in the past to come to the support of his party, have allied him closely with the good people of Henderson's sister county. On numerous occasions in the past, calls have been made upon Mr. Stanley to come to Union county, to raise his voice in Democracy's defense, and each call has been answered without hesitancy. His brilliant services along this line, not only in Union county, but throughout the entire district, and it may well be said, throughout the State, has been

CHEMICAL ANALYSIS

Reveals That "Pe-ru-na" is Calculated to Tone up the System, Restore the Functions and Procure Health.

Prof. L. J. Miller, late Professor of Chemistry and Botany of the High School of Ypsilanti, Mich., writes from 327 N. Clark Street, Chicago, Ill., as follows: "As several of my friends have spoken to me of the favorable results obtained through the use of Peru-na, especially in cases of catarrh, I examined it most thoroughly to learn its contents. "I found it composed of extracts of herbs and barks of most valuable medicinal qualities combined with other ingredients, delicately balanced, calculated to tone up the system, restore the functions and procure health. "I consider Peru-na one of the most skillfully and scientifically prepared medicines, which the public can use with safety and success."—Prof. L. J. MILLER.

of telling benefit to his party. He has never received any compensation for his long services, rendered so willingly to his party, and it is but natural that his friends should feel that the district should reward him for his labors.

Personally Mr. Stanley is a gentleman of pleasing social qualities, possessing the highest mental vigor. Although a young man, his marked ability has been the ground for so rapid and successful rise in his profession, the law, surmounting all difficulties, and by his indomitable courage and energy overcoming all difficulties, that he is now recognized as one of the foremost practitioners in the district, and his ability as an orator is recognized beyond the boundaries of his own State. He has ever been loyal to the principles of Democracy, and would prove an able champion of the Second Congress in the halls of Congress. Should he be given the Democratic nomination, his friends claim, and they do so with good grounds, that he would prove one of the ablest officials the Second district ever had.—Uniontown Telegram.

Will Recover.

The Condition of Mr. R. H. Wilson, of near Gracey, who has been dangerously ill of pneumonia, is much better and the chances for his recovery are considered good.

CLOSE CALL.

Harry Tandy's House Struck By Lightning.

Several nights since, lightning struck the residence of Harry G. Tandy in Frankfort and demolished the chimney, knocked a big hole in the roof and set fire to the building but extinguishment of the blaze was effected by the accompanying downpour of rain. But for the double ceiling, bricks and other debris would have fallen upon Mrs. Tandy, who was sleeping directly underneath with her baby.—Murray Ledger.

"Builds up the System."

Hon. Joseph H. Ridgeway, Secretary of the American Anti-Treat Society, writes the following letter from the Grand Central Hotel, St. Paul, Minn.:

"It is with great pleasure that I endorse Peru-na as an honest medicine, competent to do all it claims. I have used it several times and know of nothing that cures so completely, and at the same time builds up the system. "I have recommended it to a number of my friends and always feel that I do them a service for I know how satisfactory the results invariably are. I only wish every family had a bottle—it would save much sickness and doctor bills."—Joseph H. Ridgeway.

"I Enjoy my Meals as I Used to." Mr. J. W. Pritchard, Wolf Lake, Ind., writes: "I am at the present time entirely well. I can eat anything I wish, and I took five bottles of Peru-na, and feel better now than I have for five years. I have doctored with other doctors off and on for fifteen years, so I can recommend your medicine very highly for stomach troubles. I take great pleasure in thanking you for your free advice and Peru-na."—James H. Taylor.

"I Enjoy my Meals as I Used to." Mr. J. W. Pritchard, Wolf Lake, Ind., writes:

"I am pleased to say that I have been cured of catarrh of the stomach by Peru-na. I could hardly eat anything that agreed with me. Before I would get half through my meal my stomach would fill with gas causing me much distress and unpleasant feelings for an hour or two after each meal. But, thanks to your Peru-na, I am now completely cured, and can eat anything I want to without any of the distressing symptoms. I can now enjoy my meals as I used to do, and it is all due to Dr. Hartman and his wonderful medicine, Peru-na.

"It has been one year since I was cured, and I am all O. K. yet, so I know I am cured."—J. W. Pritchard.

Dyspepsia is a very common phase of summer catarrh. A remedy that will cure catarrh of one location will cure it anywhere. Peru-na cures catarrh wherever located. That it is a prompt and permanent cure for catarrh of the stomach the above letters testify.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

SCHLEY SANTIAGO

The Most Sensational Book of the Day.

The true story of the famous crisis of the Flying Admiral. Schley Santiago, who was shot down during the battle of Manila, is the hero of the book. The book is a sensational story of the life of the Flying Admiral. It is a story of the life of the Flying Admiral. It is a story of the life of the Flying Admiral.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, when Governor of New York, said: "Mr. Schley is the best second I have heard of in the navy during the war. It is a story of the life of the Flying Admiral. It is a story of the life of the Flying Admiral. It is a story of the life of the Flying Admiral."

THE NEW YORK HERALD says: "Mr. Schley is the best second I have heard of in the navy during the war. It is a story of the life of the Flying Admiral. It is a story of the life of the Flying Admiral. It is a story of the life of the Flying Admiral."

No subject has ever been before the public that has interested every body to the same extent as the life of the Flying Admiral. The book is a sensational story of the life of the Flying Admiral. It is a story of the life of the Flying Admiral. It is a story of the life of the Flying Admiral.

IN CROWDED ALASKA.

Shoemaker Bill Who Died Before the Advance of Civilization. Dr. Cabell Whitehead, who is called "the father of No. 10," is a very young man to enjoy so venerable title. He is chief assayer for the United States treasury, and has made many pilgrimages to the far north-west. His initial report on the gold at Nome turned the tide of adventurous travel toward that field, and he has recently returned from another visit to that region.

During this latest sojourn there he had as a servant an Aleut who, though eccentric, was ingenious and faithful, says the Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post. On New Year's eve the Aleut went forth for a night of jollity. In the early hours of the morning he headed toward his master's house, and to a fellow servant at the door explained that he had been "out to Happy New Year." In honor of the occasion he had worn, unexpectedly, a pair of the doctor's heavy rawhide boots, and in them made a dreadful clatter as he climbed the stairs.

Reaching the head of the stairs he passed, and, muttering contrition for the disturbance he had created, removed the boots, crept downstairs, and then in his stocking feet re-mounted the steps noiselessly.

Dr. Whitehead was much amused by a story of a prospector known as Shoemaker Bill, or "Shoemaker." In 1882 this pioneer located a claim of several days' journey from Fort Yukon, then a lone trading post on the Yukon. A man named Hank Snodgrass heard of this and offered to buy an interest in the claim. Shoemaker Bill, who had named his prospective mine "The Flag of All Nations," was willing enough to sell.

"Give me," said he, "ten dollars in cheques" (a term applied to every body and every commodity that came from the outer world into Alaska), "and you can have the whole thing."

Hank paid over the money and the next day panicked on a hundred dollars from the claim. "At that time," Hank says, in relating the story, "there were not 50 human beings within a radius of 2,000 miles, but Shoemaker announced that he was going on to the frontier."

"But look here, Shoemaker," I said, "I've just taken a hundred dollars' worth of gold out of 'The Flag of All Nations,' and I don't want you to think you've been uncooperative. Stay here with me and I'll let you in for half."

"No," replied Shoemaker, as he shouldered his pack and started toward the north pole, "I want freedom, and this country along the Yukon is getting altogether too thickly settled to suit me."

"Shoemaker Bill," says Dr. Whitehead, "was next heard of at another trading post a thousand miles farther on. In tramping through that incredible desolation it is not probable that he encountered more than three or four human beings. In his pack he carried a three months' file of a San Francisco newspaper."

"Shoemaker," asked a trader, "why do you burden yourself with that great roll of papers?"

"Well," replied Shoemaker, "there are so many arguments coming up in this country that I carry these here to settle disputes!"

GOOD FOR THE TONGUE.

A Few Twisters to Practice On for Improving Elocution.

The tongue may be trained to precision of action quite as much as any member of the human frame, and that is one of the functions of elocutionary study. A great deal may be done, however, by private practice to lay distinctness of enunciation, and here are some good sentences to work upon:

Gaze on the gay gray gig. Say, should such a sloppily sash shabby shuffles show? Strange strategic statistics! Give Grimes Jim's gilt gig wig. Sarah in a shawl shovelled snow softly.

She sells seashells. Smith's spirit shak split. Philip's six sister's fifth squirrel's head—London T. H. H.

The Wrong Motto.

Senator Quay is a story of an experience at a country hotel near Pittsburg. Hanging on the wall in the parlor was an inscription "In honor of Francis." The senator noticed the inscription, and turning to the hotel proprietor, said: "Do you speak French?" "No," replied the proprietor, "United States will do for me."

"Well, then," said Quay, "why do you have that motto on the wall—that means 'French is spoken here'?" "Well, I'll be blamed if a young chap didn't tell that to me for a motto 'God bless our home!'" answered the astonished hotel keeper.

There is no common cause in neglecting womanly diseases or in exposing the system to danger with other medicines when it is a matter of common knowledge that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It establishes regularity, drives out bile, inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

It is not common sense to seek medical advice of those who are not physicians when Dr. Pierce, not only a doctor by profession, but a specialist in the treatment and cure of disease of women, offers a consultation by letter.

Write to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y. If not feeling of internal organs and not feeling of every month, had irregular monthly periods, or if you are suffering from any of the following ailments, write Dr. L. Holmes of Louisville, Ky. I could not get anything out of my system. I am a favorite of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took three bottles of the Golden Medical Discovery and was cured of the disease.

ENFORCES THE LAW.

New York's New District Attorney Surprises Politicians.

Under His Direction Saloons Are Closed on Sundays and Gamblers Are Watched So That Their Trade Is Ruined.

Among those recently elected to office in New York city on the anti-Tammany ticket there is no more interesting and striking figure than William Travers Jerome, the new district attorney. What makes him of so much significance is that his new office is one of the most powerful in the United States, and that he has indicated a willingness to tackle problems which up to date the ordinary public official has preferred to leave alone.

Mr. Jerome comes of an old New York family of influence and social position. A life of leisure and comfort, spent in the pursuit of the gratification of literary and artistic tastes, might easily have been his, but he has chosen rather to use all his native power and energy for the political betterment of his native city.

Born in New York city in 1859, and being while young in delicate health, he received his early education from private tutors. He later attended Williston seminary in Easthampton, Mass., for one year, and then entered Amherst college with the class of '82. Unable to finish his college course on account of his health, he returned to New York and began the study of law. He was finally graduated from the law school of Columbia university in 1884, and in the spring of that year was admitted to the New York bar. Mr. Jerome then formed a partnership with a college friend, Daniel Mason, and practiced until '88, when as a democrat of democratic ancestry he was appointed a deputy assistant to the district attorney by Col. Fellows, at that time the successful Tammany incumbent.

WILLIAM TRAVERS JEROME.
(New Reform District Attorney of the City of New York.)

He served as district attorney from 1888 to '90, but in the fall of that year he supported the People's Municipal league in their campaign for a good city government, so that it was impossible for him to be reappointed to an office controlled by Tammany. Mr. Jerome then returned to the practice of law and in '94 became one of the counsel of the Lexow committee and a little later a member of the executive committee of the famous "committee of seven," and eventually became the political manager of the organization. It will be remembered that the work of the Lexow investigation resulted in the defeat of Tammany and the establishment of the administration of Mayor Strong. In July, '95, Mr. Jerome became justice of the court of special sessions, and in the conduct of his office established a reputation for unimpeachable integrity.

In the late campaign in New York city it is probable that Mr. Jerome did more than any one single man to help elect the so-called fusion ticket, and the campaign made him a national figure. His knowledge of things which should not be was gained partly while in office and partly while as a private citizen he took a keen interest in the government of his home city. When he decided to talk the entire nation was interested. He understood the various manifestations of corruption uncommonly well, and the so-called "grafters" were unmercifully attacked in his speeches. He committed himself to strong opinions in regard to gambling, open saloons on Sunday, and blackmailing by men in official life. Tammany was fearful of his election, and exhausted every effort to defeat him, for it well realized that with such a man in the office of district attorney many facts would be laid bare to public gaze that it would be far better to keep hidden.

In regard to gambling Mr. Jerome is credited with saying that under his administration he will not allow a gambling house to run where firm checks are accepted, where miscreant play, where blackmail is paid to the police and where disorderly conditions prevail.

Crime Is Not Profitable.
A man who served a long term in the town penitentiary writes to his home paper that he is convinced crime does not pay, since he has lost $16,800 he might have been working at his trade, while the property he stole brought him only $67.

Output of Printed Matter.
An arithmetic man calculates the newspaper and periodical output in the United States at 2,555,466,000 dailies, 1,208,160,000 weeklies and 263,450,000 monthlies; total, 4,337,108,000 copies, an amount of printed matter equal to 1,000,000,000 average novels.
